

Position: Senior Operations Supervisor

Location: South Charlotte, NC Area

As a Senior Operations Supervisor you will be responsible for day-to-day supervision of the operation as well as Continuous Improvement (process improvement) initiatives within the department. For this reason, previous drafting and/or engineering experience is preferred.

Job Responsibilities

- Responsible for the performance of hourly employees in Furnace Repair
- Research new equipment, tools, and processes. Assess compatibility with current systems
- Must assist, direct, and train team to work in a safe manner to set-up and operate equipment to produce a product that meets the customer requirements in a safe and cost-effective manner
- Must drive process improvement in all aspects of VIM operations including Safety, Quality, Company Policies, Production, and Operational Cost
- Required to continually strive to develop and promote all team members and or prepare employees for advancement and growth within the company
- Responsible for certification and re-certification of all employees for each skill in critical and non-critical operations
- Work from schedules tables charts, general instructions and other data and information to plan and lay out work to ensure an orderly flow of material into and out of the area that meets the customer requirements including delivering the product on time
- Take responsibility for all equipment, tools, parts and area, this is shown by taking appropriate action in requesting maintenance repairs, ordering items through proper channels and maintaining a neat clean and organized work area.

Job Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree in a related field, or equivalent work experience
- 3+ years of Leadership experience in an industrial manufacturing facility.
- AutoCAD or Solidwork experience